SIGGRAPH 2018 Student Volunteer Program
Student Volunteers Frequently Asked Questions - Evaluation

Who will jury my application?

SV Applications are juried by the Student Volunteer Subcommittee and Team Leaders. They are evaluated individually on a blind basis, meaning an SV applicant's identity will not be revealed until after all SV applications have been juried and appropriately scored. This is to ensure an unbiased evaluation across all applications.

What criteria will my application be evaluated on?

SV applications are as diverse as the thousands of applicants from across the world who make up our team. Apart from overall completion, eligibility, and proof of enrollment, there is no hard criteria we look for in SV applications. Instead, we evaluate applications based on quality, clarity, and thoughtfulness. We are looking for volunteers who can clearly communicate their leadership skills, dedication to service, enthusiasm, passion, and the value they uniquely bring to a team.

What should I mention in my SV application?

If you have experiences in customer service, leadership roles, volunteerism, and other service-focused endeavors, we'd love to hear about them. SV applications that communicate clear examples of past experiences that make you exceptional volunteer material are extremely helpful to our jurying team. We're looking to build a volunteer team from the best of the best, and that effort begins with your ability to communicate your qualification.

Please read each essay question asked in the application thoroughly and allow yourself plenty of time to craft a thoughtful answer.

Can I revise or add information to my SV application after the submission deadline?

No. All submitted applications are evaluated as your final submission. Edits are not permitted after the submission deadline.

Can I withdraw my SV Application?

Yes. If you wish to withdraw your SV application, please send an email to sv-s2018@siggraph.org.
